Texts of the Message

Behold the time is near for you to tell the world that justice will befall all those who reject Me. My mercy knows no bounds to all those who follow the truth of My suffering on the cross. Joy to those of My followers who reject the temptations they are faced with every day. Others who turned their backs on My teachings are blind to the promises made by Me when I died for their sins on the cross. I am in deep pain and feel desolate with the abandonment that I suffer from My beloved sinners for whom I gave up My earthly life. The earth is in darkness at this time. They, My followers, suffer greatly with Me when they witness a world of sinners who have not only turned their back on God My Eternal Father but on Me who suffered a great sacrifice to save them from the realms of eternal damnation. I am distressed and cry bitter tears of disappointment and sorrow at the way I have been rejected for the second time.

(Again, I do not profess to interpret the Message but I share my own opinion as to how I understand it.)

Commentary

- “Justice will befall all those who reject Me. My MERCY knows no bounds to all those who follow the truth.” It is very clear that justice will befall in a near or distant future, but in this very same message Jesus also says: “I ask you to pray for conversion before the End Times which are almost upon us.” This message was received November 9, 2010, almost 10 years ago
- Visionaries around the world usually would receive continuous messages or even tutelage directly from celestial personalities until the messages are thoroughly completed according to God’s own purpose in a span of a number of years
- We have been reminded by Joseph Gabrielle in one of the conferences that there is no comparison with other visionaries. This is just for the purpose of clarity of the urgency of this mission and again, the public apparitions of the BVM in Medjugorje have already ended. I would readily agree that the mission of the salvation of all souls is VERY, VERY URGENT
- While Jesus talks of justice He also talks about mercy at the same time. “My mercy knows no bounds to all those who follow the truth of My suffering on the cross” Jesus says also “There is still time for sinners to repent”
- The crux of the matter: When the hour of mercy ends, the hour of justice begins

Back to Message

I urge My followers to gather together at this time of sorrow in the world. They must leave aside their indifference to pray and join with Me to help those whose souls have been stolen by the Evil One. There is still time for sinners to repent. There is no easy way. It has to be from the heart. Believers do not be afraid to raise your voices in unison to declare the love that I have for all. Christians, Muslims, Hindus, Jews and for all those faiths deduced by the fallible mind of mankind – I call on you all, one last time, to open your eyes to the true word of God. The God that sent you the word through the prophets. The truth was written and documented in the Holy word of the scriptures which no man can amend, change or attempt to twist to his own interpretation. There is only one God. So put down your weapons, open your eyes and follow Me to Eternal Life.

Commentary

- “I urge My followers to gather together at this time of sorrow in the world.” This is a call to the mission and the JTM Crusade Prayer Group is our response to the call of the mission. We are all very happy and willing to do the urgent mission to save souls where the detailed instructions are dictated by Heaven itself
- The urgency of the mission goes beyond the threshold of religion: Christians, Muslims, Hindus, Jews and for all those faiths deduced by the fallible mind of mankind
- The truth was written and documented in the Holy word of the scriptures which no man can amend, change or attempt to twist to his own interpretation. Since Jesus Himself said this, I would say in my own opinion that not one word enshrined in the messages contradicts the Holy Scriptures
- “There is only one God. So put down your weapons, open your eyes and follow Me to Eternal Life.” Every staunch believer on earth would always profess that his or her religion is the true religion of all. Put down your weapons of differences as there is only one God. Here, the mission of salvation breaks down the barriers of religion

Back to Message

I love you all so much that I gave up my life for you. Have you forgotten this? Through my Divine Mercy I implore all of you to turn back to Me one last time. Through My mercy I come back to earth to try and help you to look into your hearts and seek the truth. Do not allow the Deceiver to destroy you. Seek the truth. Love – pure love – is the path to my Father’s Kingdom. Please, Please remember my Divine Mercy. I love each and every single one of you. Pray for forgiveness now. Hold out your hands and let me guide you to my Father’s Kingdom. I am returning to earth as foretold. That time (cf. comments) is drawing so quickly that many will not be prepared.

Commentary

- Jesus virtually begs to remember His Divine Mercy. This is not merely the Divine Mercy prayer but the remembrance from our hearts that the God that we have is so merciful, loving and forgiving
- And the Divine Mercy prayer per se is short because it is intended by the Lord in this busy modern world

- Hold out your hands and let me guide you to my Father's Kingdom. I am returning to earth as foretold. That time (that here is a demonstrative pronoun and the antecedent is the "returning to earth") is drawing so quickly that many will not be prepared

So many will be shocked and taken unawares that they will not believe it is happening. There is not much time now for my prophets to help prepare mankind for this great event. Believers I call on you to all to heed My warning. Spread the truth. Urge people to ask for My mercy. I will strive to save every single soul who repents right up to their very last breath. I cannot, and will not, interfere with their free will. I beseech you to listen and heed My word. I love all of you.

Commentary

- There is a constraint in the time element of the mission of salvation. The prophets do not have much time to prepare mankind for the great event, so this makes the mission even more urgent because time could be really so short
- And this is so beautiful; "I will strive to save every single soul who repents right up to their very last breath." Can you ever imagine that the 2 billion lost souls will all repent, and repent even at their last breath?
- So I would advise - avoid debates, avoid argumentations, those unnecessary questions may not have to be necessarily answered to. Because time delay is always a SETBACK to any mission. There are no winners in a debate because both sides will staunchly defend his or her cause, and the listeners are even more confused
- Do you think we have to wait for the Church's investigation that the messages and the crusade prayers are authentic before we spread the truth? No. It will not come anymore. There is no more time. Fatima was approved after 25 years. We can no longer wait for such an immense time spent just waiting
- Many would-be dogmas in the Church are in the waiting list; e.g. Mary as Co-Redemptrix, Consolatrix, and Advocate. I signed a petition for this to become a Marian dogma back in my school of theology. The paper was written by Dr. Mark Miravalle of the Franciscan University of Steubenville in Ohio
- Incidentally, the same professor also wrote "Maria Divine Mercy": A Theological Evaluation by Dr. Mark Miravalle. And it was so unfavorable for MDM and so I wrote a 12-page refutation on this evaluation defending MDM and I sent it to Totus Tuus, Maria back in 2013
- Well, at that time, I still argued, but not this time anymore, those arguments will only redirect our attention to a less urgent duty of defense and water down the focus of spreading the mission
- If the bishop or the priest in your parish is tolerant of this mission, then go spread it, but avoid being the center that could elicit envy and jealousy to others
- If the authorities are intolerant, but the faithful is very accepting, spread it in silence. If both the authorities and the faithful are all intolerant (which I believe cannot really happen that the two are in unison, because God touches the heart of every individual you meet)

- But should it happen that you are totally banned and threatened, you can always leave
- Remember what Jesus said to the 1st 72 disciples sent to the mission? Matthew 10:14 “And if anyone will not receive you or listen to your words, shake off the dust from your feet when you leave that house or town” which means that you do not bring with you as you leave even the dust that is now cursed in that place. But of course, this is already the most extreme thing to do, but still, this is endorsed by Jesus in the Scriptures

Back to Message

I ask you to pray for conversion before the End Times which are almost upon us. I have no wish to frighten My followers but I beseech all of you now to save souls. You must remind everyone of the urgency to rid their minds of wordly (this must be worldly) pursuits. Instead seek out the virtues of simple humility, devoid of ego and idolatry. The ORDINARY PEOPLE will have to lead the way in spreading the truth about My Second Coming. Because of the rapidly evolving spiritual darkness, spread by atheism and the surge of Satanic worship in the sad and ungrateful world of today, it is the simple souls, the true believers, who will have to take on this task. Pray now for the salvation of mankind as the world now heads into the Great Tribulation as foretold in Sacred Scripture. It will be up to mankind's own free will whether or not they are prepared to seek redemption for their sins. They must never be afraid. My love is ever merciful.

Your Saviour Jesus Christ
