Notes: Commentaries are in bullets

My dearly beloved daughter I cry with great sadness tonight at the sins of mankind which have increased with great intensity as the time for the world to commemorate My Passion on the cross draws nearer. My pain is even greater than it was when I was first crucified. I am now reliving the agony I endured as the sins of mankind pierce My heart like a sword that is longer, sharper and more painful. Hear My pleas. Hear My cries. All of you. Comfort Me in this deep agony I endure today. I have to witness, daily, the deep sorrow, the pain and torture inflicted by man on man. By man on children. These murderers suffer no remorse so infected are their dark souls by Satan, The Deceiver. He shows no compassion for any of you because he has no soul. Yet man foolishly succumbs to his temptations like blind men. So slavishly do they allow themselves be sucked into this terrible darkness that I have to rely on those of you believers to pray hard to salvage such souls.

Commentary

- So, this is a very short message and in the introductory of this message, I recall one of our professors in theology many years back saying that God cannot suffer anymore because He is already a God; and as a God He is already self-sufficient in Himself. I thought God will no longer suffer pain in that sense
- I suppose the professor did not consider the existence of the MYSTICAL BODY OF CHRIST

- The Church document Lumen Gentium (1964; "Light of the Nations") even defined a broader spectrum of this Mystical Body by its universal nature by stating that all persons are members of the Church
- Perhaps you ask the question why would Jesus feel the pain of the sins of men when He is a God and He has already done the ultimate sacrifice to save everyone by dying on the cross. Isn't it that everything is finished?
- This is the answer to that question: "We belong to the Mystical Body of Christ." The body is of different parts with different functions as St. Paul would explain it
- As Christians, we are the extension of the Mystical Body of Christ, whether we be sinner or saint, still, we are the members of His Body
- When the arms are in pain, the whole body is affected. When the feet are in pain the whole body would be limping
- The wonder of God's creation continues to this day especially with the most beautiful of His creature - the human being. The human species is assured of its continuity through human reproduction. God's creation continues to unfold every time a newborn baby would come into the world. If God cannot feel the pain, why would He be offended when a fetus is aborted? In fact, God is so offended, abortion is an abomination before His eyes!
- If God cannot feel the pain, why do we need to offer our sufferings and sacrifices in prayer, God would not understand it because He is simply joy in itself; but God identifies with both our joys and sufferings because we are but in union with His body
- So, I hope that we are settled with this question that God cannot feel the pain because of our sins. If I go back to the statement of the theologian I mentioned, he is only partially correct because as a Mystical Body; on one hand, the erring members of the Body bring pain, and on the other hand, the righteous members of the Church also bring great joy to God

- The righteous members are guided by the virtues of God, while the erring members are trapped by the selfishness of the Deceiver

Back to Message

My pain intensifies daily. Sin is not seen by man for what it is. At its most basic level it is a love of self. At its worst it is a love of all things that damages others through dishonesty, violence, abuse and murder. Why do people turn a blind eye when they witness such atrocities? Those victims are people such as yourselves. Pray hard for these perpetrators because they too are victims. They, My children, have been ensnared by The Deceiver yet many do not even accept he exists. The time is drawing close now for My word to be truly heard again on earth. Please please explain to all that My mercy is now about to be witnessed on earth during the forthcoming mystical event. It is important to tell as many people as possible to ask God, the Eternal Father to forgive each and every one of you for past sins committed. Do it right now. And quickly. Save your souls and those of others. While conversion will be rampant some unfortunate souls will not survive the shock. Pray pray that they will not die in mortal sin. Please remind yourselves of My Passion during Lent by considering the sacrifice I made willingly for all of you so that you could be saved. Then understand that The Warning, the Illumination of Conscience is my next gift of Mercy for mankind.

Spread conversion everywhere. Help defeat The Deceiver by praying My Divine Mercy to save souls. Trust in Me now and bring Me back into your hearts. Unite together to save mankind through love.

Commentary

- I quote from this message: "Pray hard for these perpetrators because they too are victims." We are already aware that abuse is a vicious cycle. It is a common saying in healing sessions that "the abused of today, are the abusers of tomorrow." These words ring so true
- I am a witness to it. When I was in 2nd year theology I was assigned in a Drop-in Center for street children for boys (the girls are separated) in Cubao, Quezon City. We gather the street boys in the streets scavenging the trash for food after the fast-food restos closed at night and we entice them to stay at the center where they are clothed, and fed and taken care of by the social worker, the housemother
- In the center, we have a resident 12-year old street boy I will just name him Carlos. In the dead of night, we heard some noise in the dormitory, and to our shock, Carlos attempted to have sex with a 2-year-old boy who remained asleep
- Upon interrogation by the social worker, it was revealed that Carlos run away from home because the same thing is done to him for many years. He thought it was just a normal thing to do
- I was so disillusioned, just how sick this world is, but also very thankful to God I am a hundred times luckier. Can you imagine how twisted is this? But this is a reality! We just prayed CoP 162 To Protect the Weak and the Innocent
- There are people already trapped from the machinations of Satan that it is nearly impossible to free them from that slavery, yet, not of their own making. It is only by God's intervention and through our prayers that a soul is reborn and renewed

- Let us recall Message 58 – Never Judge Other Religions, Creeds or Sexual Preferences. Why did Jesus have to remind us about this? It is because the perpetrators are victims themselves and they may not be even aware about it
- Christian morality teaches us that if a person is innocent, he is not guilty. Though the act is sinful, there is only a lesser culpability
- Yet how many years of therapy and counseling that both the victim and the perpetrator need? Perhaps the entirety of their lifetime before they can be healed
- So many people around us are so broken. These children, some of them if you ask who is their father or mother and they will answer I do not know. They do not even know the concept of what a father or a mother is!
- (Warning: this is graphic) And what about the hundreds of thousands of children stored in the tunnels ready for the harvest of adrenochrome, and as sacrifices to the black masses in the altar of Satan as reported by the military intelligence? We are not even touching here the millions of abortions happening in the surface of the planet. We just prayed CoP 166 To Mitigate the Murder of Innocents
- We have so much things to pray for as Jesus asked: “The time is drawing close now for My word to be truly heard again on earth. Please, please explain to all that My mercy is now about to be witnessed on earth during the forthcoming mystical event”

Your Divine Saviour
 Jesus Christ
 Son of God, the Almighty Father,
 Creator and Maker of all things
